An aerial photograph showing a large fire with thick black smoke rising from a building. The smoke is billowing upwards and outwards, filling a significant portion of the sky. The surrounding area appears to be a city street with some greenery visible in the distance.

An aerial photograph capturing a massive fire in Lower Manhattan. A thick, billowing plume of black smoke rises from the base of a building, filling much of the sky and obscuring parts of the city. The surrounding urban landscape, with its dense collection of skyscrapers and lower-rise buildings, is visible. The Hudson River is on the left, and the East River is on the right. The smoke plume is particularly dense and dark, indicating a large-scale fire.

A nighttime photograph of the New York City skyline, featuring the Freedom Tower (One World Trade Center) prominently. The tower is illuminated with the American flag and the shields of the New York City Police Department and Fire Department. The bridge lights and the city lights are visible in the background. In the foreground, the silhouettes of people looking out over the water are visible.
